Key areas of discussion

- This was the first reconvened Workgroup meeting since October 2021 after the modification had placed on pause due to overlap with the CIM working group.
- The Proposer updated on the progress to date and the latest update from the DDSG (Data and Digitalisation Steering Group). On 10 January 2022, Ofgem published an open letter on the regulatory approach to CIM. The Proposer updated that their solution is to use CIM and agreed to reflect more detail in their Proposal form on the updated solution.
- The Workgroup reviewed their Terms of Reference. Requested amendments will be presented to the April Grid Code Panel for approval.
- The Workgroup reviewed the actions log from the previous meeting and closed off all previous open actions.
- A number of comments had been submitted on the draft legal text before the Workgroup meeting, and there were a number of open legal text actions. To save time in the Workgroup meetings, an action was taken for a separate meeting to be set up to discuss legal text changes and circulate the output before the next Workgroup meeting.
- The Workgroup reviewed their modification timeline and noted that though time is limited, the milestones do look to be achievable at present. They agreed to review this following the legal text meeting.
